Reviews

The publication is easy in read better to understand. It is writter in basic words and phrases rather than hard to understand. You wont truly feel monotony at anytime of your respective time (that's what catalogues are for about if you question me).

Excerpt from Catalogue of the Library of the New Church Society, Henry Street, Bath: With a Biography of Swedenborg In the year 1744, Swedenborg published at Amsterdam a work on the Animal Kingdom, in which were contained some remarkable discoveries of his own in anatomy. The merit of these discoveries, also, was claimed by other scientific men, in works published many years afterward. But the truth was, that Swedenborg loved science and philosophy for their own sakes, not for the sake of fame and he therefore took no pains to claim to himself the merit of his discoveries. He regarded science only as the means of attaining true wisdom. Speaking, in one of his philosophical works, of those who pursue science for this true and noble end, he says Such persons reckon the sciences and the knowledge of mechanical works only as among the ministers of wisdom, and they learn them as helps to the attainment of it, and not that they may be reputed wise on account of possessing such knowledge. They modestly restrain the external mind in its tendency to be elated and puffed up, because they perceive the sciences to form an ocean, of which they can catch only a few drops. They look at no one with a scornful brow or the spirit of superiority; nor do they arrogate any of their attainments to themselves; but they refer all to the Deity, and regard them as gifts from Him, from whom all true wisdom springs as from its fountain. Such was the spirit of modesty, humility, and devotion, with which the philosopher Swedenborg pursued his scientific investigations. He resembled, in this respect, the illustrious Newton, who, after having...
