House of Representatives The House having under consideration resolutions heretofore reported by the Committee on Government Contracts - Mr. Dawes said: Mr. Speaker: I do not know that I shall have any disposition to Say a single word in opposition to the amendment just submitted by the gentleman from Indiana. When he comes to know the course which this committee has pursued a little more fully than he seems to do now, he will find no occasion for offering it in the light of an admonition to them. The abstract principle I agree with entirely, and to its application, individually, I have no objection. The evidence before the committee touching the second resolution has been reported to the Horn. It is proposed at this lime to ask the attention of the House to that resolution and to the evidence which sustains it, and to call for a vote upon it. Bat, sir, the House will expect from the committee, I doubt not - they certainly have a right to expect from them before they call upon the House to vote upon that resolution - some allusion to matters which have transpired in this House within the last few days. Sir, on Monday last the committee on Government contracts was for a second time in its absence honored with a premeditated and, as it would appear from the Globe, a preconcerted attack upon the personal character and integrity of its members. The committee received notice of this attack by the telegraph when they were quietly and,...
