Forgotten Books, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from Rules of the Training School for Nurses of the Woman s Hospital of Philadelphia Applicants must be between twenty-one and forty/ years of age. They shall be intelligent women who can read and write well and who have sufficient knowledge of arithmetic to meet the requirements of the work. They shall be of good character and good habits, for which satisfactory testimonials are required. During the probationary months and previous to obtaining membership in the school, candidates must be prepared for examination as to scholarship. The Superintendent of Nurses shall have full power to decide as to the fitness of candidates for the work, and as to the propriety of retaining or dismissing them at the end of the probationary months. She shall also, with the approbation of the physician-in-charge, have the right to suspend a nurse for carelessness or misconduct, and she in conjunction with the Nurse Committee has the right to discharge a nurse, if in their judgment it is thought best. During the probationary months candidates are boarded and lodged in the Hospital, at its expense, and have fuel, light, and their washing furnished them, but receive no allowance in money. When coming from a distance they must provide themselves with money sufficient to meet their demands until such time as they receive their allowance, viz., the end of the third month of their stay. Money for return traveling expenses, if not received into the school, and sufficient to purchase books, thermometer, and medicine glass, if received, will be essential.
